Asbury Heights Celebrates Older Americans Month with Campus Parade

May 14, 2010, Mt. Lebanon, Pa.—Asbury Heights, a continuing care community in Mt. Lebanon, will celebrate Older Americans Month with a campus parade during Asbury Week on Tuesday, May 25 at 1:30 p.m. on their campus at 700 Bower Hill Road.

The Mt. Lebanon Fire Department will lead the parade and be joined by local veterans, the Carrick High School Bagpipe Band and classic cars. Local mascots including King's Frownie brownie, the Chik-Fil-A cow, the Washington Wild Thing and the Steelers own Steely McBeam. Residents and staff will decorate floats celebrating the countries of Ireland, Italy, Asia, German and France.

The remainder of Asbury Week will be filled with special events for residents and staff, including a Pittsburgh day, a fashion show and a luau.

"Asbury Heights is a thriving retirement community proud to celebrate our residents and staff," says John Zanardelli, president and CEO, Asbury Heights. "Each of them brings something special to the campus and deserves to be recognized for their contributions to our community."

For 47 years, the Administration on Aging has designated May as Older Americans Month and recognizes older Americans and their local, state and national contributions.
